Hello Zontians,

Welcome to fall! The District 6 Conference was great, and I am so happy that my schedule finally aligned with being able to attend.

The conference was filled with great breakout discussions and stimulating debate on our new Areas within District 6, which will likely be in place by 2020. I'm sure there will be more to come on that topic as the District puts together the action items from the conference.

We also learned that each club will need a Centennial committee to start publicizing that Zonta is turning 100 years old in 2020. Helen Ludwig will be chairing that committee; however, she will need help from other members to move forward. We will be asking for committee members at the October meeting.

The date for the spring Area Workshop is set for April 6, 2019, and the fall District Conference will be September 20-22, 2019, in Indianapolis, IN. They decided to move the conference date from October to accommodate the schedule of the Zonta International President. How exciting!

I will make sure to get you the location of the spring workshop by the next Club meeting. I wanted to share these dates as soon as I had them, so folks could put them on the calendar. I hope you will consider joining us at the 2019 workshop and conference.

I unfortunately will not be at the club meeting in October, so Karen Smith will be running the meeting. (Thank you, Karen!) I thank you all for your patience as we continue to tweak the agenda.

I hope your October is a safe and fall-like month.

Warmest Regards,
Maria Bellmann

Krista Betts called the meeting to order.

Jennifer Murillo from DentaQuest was a guest of Joni Reese for the evening.

Marge Holzbog led the International Toast. Focus was on Bangladesh, and the book The Storm. There are six clubs in Bangladesh and Zonta International presently has a $2 million-dollar project in the region. Jackie Beaudry will do the toast for October and Deb Koller will do the toast for November.

Guest Speaker: Debbie Buchanan of the Milwaukee Homeless Veterans Initiative. Sixty percent of the people who serve in the military are not eligible for benefits. Milwaukee Homeless Veterans Initiative does not receive federal funding and is supported by organizations and private donations.

Treasurer's Report: The checking account balance is $11,393.25. CD value is $5,152.03.

Committee Reports:

- Fashion Show: April 13, 2019, is the 2019 fashion show. Letters were handed out for corporate donations for all members to consider. Chris Todd is looking for help with corporate donation solicitation. Joann Commodore volunteered to help Chris. Since this is our only fundraiser, please consider how to fill a table with your friends and family. The first committee meeting is September 26 following the club meeting. If anyone is interested in joining the Fashion Show committee, you are welcome!
- Public Relations: Joni Reese received an email from WISN and they are interested in having a guest live in the studio on Monday, October 1, to speak about the Zonta Says NO walk. La Toya Sykes will go to the station if someone would kick off the walk, due to overlap in timing. Cheryl Lucas-DeBerry will also be contacted regarding her availability to do the interview.
- Scholarship: Our Women in STEM scholarship winner is Elizabeth Pieroni, who is in her final year at Carthage College, majoring in Chemistry. Elizabeth was inspired by her grandmother, a biochemistry researcher.
- Silent Walk: Pam Knackert and Chris Todd, along with La Toya, have lined up most of the efforts for the walk on October 1. The Mayor, Chief of Police, Deputy DA, Carmen Pitre (Sojourner Family Peace Center), and other members from the Milwaukee Council will take part. Meet in the rotunda at 11:45 am. There will be an opening from End Domestic Abuse Wisconsin and the walk will start around noon.
- Racial Justice Committee: The group met recently and has put together a resource list for our club and for fall conference.
- Z Club: Joann reported that Milwaukee High School of the Arts is continuing to have interest in the Z Club and have club sponsors. Each student had to select an advisory group that they wanted to work with. They are looking to have us in to meet with the girls this month.
- Service: We received a thank-you from Neu-Life for the backpacks and school supplies.

Foundation: The Foundation board met in September and will soon have the funding guidelines and application ready for agencies if they want to apply for money from the Foundation. Those that received funds last year will be asked to give an update on what has happened with the funds provided. Joni will be adding the guidelines and application to our website. $18,000 will be available for distribution. Applications are due December 15.

The Foundation will also be looking at the requirements for the club to be recognized at the 2020 Zonta International Convention in Chicago for its contributions to Zonta International.

New Business:

- Holiday Gift Drive for Neu-Life: There are 180 youth for whom Neu-Life is looking to provide gifts (not all from us), and they will use the same method as last year (Target gift registry). Last year we committed to gifts for 50 youth. The club voted to participate again this year at the same level. There will be a gift-wrapping opportunity closer to the event. Gift wrap, bags and ribbon are welcome for donations as well. Lori Peterson will coordinate, and we will look for a partner to help Lori.
- International Convention 2020: Elizabeth reported that convention dates are July 4–8, 2020. An email was sent outlining opportunities for serving at convention. District 6 has the first pick of where they want to volunteer. Each person gets only one assignment, so if you have interest in more than one, please rank them based on your preference. Each member is strongly encouraged to attend and volunteer; it is the experience of a lifetime.

Announcements:

- Silent Walk is Monday, October 1. Please make every effort to attend.
- Fall Conference is Friday, October 5-7.
- Next Club meeting is Wednesday, October 24. Our speaker will be from Exploit No More.

Field Trip to the YWCA's 14th Annual Evening to Promote Racial Justice

The Racial Justice Committee invites all of our Zonta Sisters to join us at the Marcus Center for the Performing Arts on December 4, 2018, for YWCA's 14th Annual Evening to Promote Racial Justice, Women Behind Campaigns: Racism & Sexism in Politics. This event is filled with music, food, recognition of local trailblazers and a keynote address.

Individuals from Southeast Wisconsin will be recognized through the Eliminating Racism Award and the Empowering Women Award.

This year, the keynote speaker for the event is Ms. Symone Sanders. A champion for women, Symone D. Sanders is a strategist, communications consultant, CNN political commentator and a Spring 2018 Resident Fellow at Harvard's Institute of Politics at the Kennedy School.

Symone rose to prominence during her tenure as the National Press Secretary for U.S. Sen. Bernie Sanders' presidential campaign. At 25, Symone demonstrated an uncanny command of the issues, earning her a place in history as the youngest presidential press secretary on record and a spot on Rolling Stone Magazine's list of 16 young Americans shaping the 2016 election.

Registration for this event will start November 1, 2018. Go to www.ywcasew.org for more information.

Racial Justice Resource List

Two elements of the Racial Justice Committee Plan for 2018-19, shared and agreed at our August club meeting, are to:

- Provide information/links/reading suggestions/upcoming community activities in monthly newsletters
- Produce a packet of materials/links to share at Fall Conference

At the District 6 Fall Conference, October 5-7 in Fairview Heights, Illinois, we shared the resource list that is attached to the email with this newsletter. On the following page is the cover letter we shared to introduce our work and these resources.

Racial Justice Resource List: An Introduction

Zonta clubs can support Zonta International advocacy efforts to abolish barriers that persist in denying women the empowerment they seek, by addressing those barriers wherever and whenever they arise.

One such barrier, and one not addressed explicitly by ZI, is racism, particularly institutional, cultural and structural racism. Implicit bias is another barrier that can be associated with racism.

Members of the Zonta Club of Milwaukee formed a Racial Justice Committee at the beginning of 2018. We came together with a belief that racism is a barrier to the empowerment of women, and that we, as Zontians and women, are uniquely positioned to do something about it -- if we understand it and can learn to recognize it.

We quickly realized just how much we had to learn, not just about the topic but about each other. This is a topic that requires trust, listening, good faith, open-mindedness, and humility.

Part of our mission is to communicate how racism is indeed a barrier to the empowerment of women. We set out to educate ourselves on privilege, racism and the ways it influences our empowerment and our ability to live to our potential. We've read articles and books; attended presentations, workshops and community forums; and continue to do so.

We act to support our growth as women and as a Club, and model our journey for Zonta International. In that spirit, we share with you our recently completed but still work-in-progress Racial Justice Resource List. It is a compilation of the readings and references we have uncovered so far. Our journey is just beginning, and we'll keep you informed as we move forward.

*Racial Justice Committee
Zonta Club of Milwaukee*

The Racial Justice Committee Mission is to:

- Communicate and spread understanding of how racism is a barrier to the empowerment of women
- Encourage action, because we as women are uniquely positioned to do something about racism and make a difference

We act to support our growth as women and as a Club, and model our journey for Zonta International.

Help Us Draw in the Donations

Planning for the April 13, 2019, event is now in full swing. We will be selecting a theme and title for the event shortly – something that will draw attention to Zonta International's 100th anniversary. Early meeting discussions are primarily focused on remaining attractive to our guests and providing an array of activities that are fun and raise funds to support women and girls.

From feedback following the 2018 event we know that “action” auction items are most appealing. Tickets for activities such as Bucks games, Brewers games (anyone have company box seats?) or rodeos; hotel stays; and of course, gift certificates for restaurants, particularly high-end or novel hot spots, are popular.

A short brainstorm among the committee members resulted in a potential week at a cabin and perhaps a paddleboat ride. We forget who we know or what luxurious resources are at our disposal that we may take for granted. Take a little time to consider, what resources could you share, or gather through those you know, to draw high bids?

- A bank/financial organization/health facility/hospital
- Friends/relatives in business, e.g., family dentist, doctor
- Celebrity contact, e.g., Ellen, Oprah (Yes, she did send a signed oversized Purple Tee many years ago)

Use your imagination. All ideas are greatly appreciated.

Zonta International President Susanne von Bassewitz recently made a statement at a UN General Assembly event on eliminating child marriage in Africa, stating:

“Worldwide almost 640 million women alive today were married before their 18th birthday and an estimated 200 million more girls are at risk.”

The event was organized by the permanent missions to the United Nations, UNICEF, UNFPA and UN Women and engaged the heads of State and Governments in a dialogue on child, early and forced marriage with the goal of renewing commitments to implement national strategies to end child early and forced marriages.

Mozambique

Mozambique is one of 12 countries participating in Zonta International's ZISVAW project to end child marriages.

Mozambique is located on the southeastern coast of the African Continent. Historically Mozambique was a Portuguese colony. It is a scenic country rich in natural resources and is biologically and culturally diverse. It has a tropical climate, and its extensive coastline offers one of Africa's best natural harbors. Their harbors have allowed Mozambique an important role in the maritime economy of the Indian Ocean, while the country's white sand beaches are an important attraction for the growing tourism industry. Fertile soils in the northern and central areas of Mozambique have yielded a varied and abundant agriculture, and the great Zambezi River has provided ample water for irrigation and the basis for a regionally important hydroelectric power industry.

Yet, Mozambique's turbulent recent political history has kept its people from fully enjoying these natural advantages and from developing a stable, diversified economy. Following independence in 1975, Mozambique was torn by internal conflict as the Marxist government, supported in part by the Soviet Union and Cuba, battled anticommunist forces funded by South Africa and the former Rhodesia (now Zimbabwe) for control of the country.

Marked by countless acts of terror, the ensuing warfare displaced at least four million people and resulted in the death of perhaps a million more as a result of the violence, famine, and disease it engendered. Violence and disunity hindered economic development, especially the broadening of tourism, and discouraged foreign investment. The conflict formally ended in 1992, but its lingering effects are many: in the early 21st century, as many as one million unexploded land mines still remained along the country's trails and roads, and much political strife has continued between the major opposition forces and the central government. At the end of its civil war in 1992, Mozambique ranked among the poorest countries in the world. It still ranks among the least developed countries of the world, with very low socioeconomic indicators.

Suggested Reading: Treacherous Paradise, by Henning Mankell

This novel tells the story of Hanna and is based on real events. Mankell uses his deep knowledge of Mozambique's history and politics to great advantage in this unusual and riveting story. (Mankell is also the best-selling author of the Kurt Wallander Series.)

Women in STEM Scholarship Recipient ($1,000)

ELIZABETH PIERONI

Women majoring in Science, Technology, Engineering or Math (STEM) at an accredited college or university who show outstanding potential in their chosen field are eligible to apply for this $1,000 scholarship offered by the Zonta Club of Milwaukee.

The 2018 recipient is Elizabeth Pieroni, who is finishing her senior year at Carthage College, majoring in Chemistry. Elizabeth, a consistent member of the Dean's List at Carthage, is a member of the Chemistry Club, Student Engineers Club, Theta Chi Delta Chemistry Honors Fraternity, and Alpha Lambda Delta Honors Fraternity. She is a member of the college's Swim & Dive Team and serves as a swim coach at a YMCA.

Elizabeth is currently working with a Carthage professor as a researcher on a National Science Foundation grant to study surfactants using a nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometer. One of her professors noted that Elizabeth was inspired in her career direction by her grandmother, who was a biochemistry researcher. He sees for Elizabeth a bright future as a scientist.

Elizabeth explained her goals in her application as such:

"While at this time I am unsure of my exact career path, I know that my ultimate professional goal is to make a difference in the world, to feel as though I have done my best to contribute to the greater good.... I hope to be able to narrow down my path to topics like green chemistry to improve our environment, or biochemistry to improve chemical applications in the medical field. These topics have a significance to my life which would make the research in these fields more meaningful and worthwhile. However, there is more to chemistry than just the scientific knowledge. It is a difficult field and requires persistence and years of hard work which are qualities that expand further in life than just the act of landing a job, they lead to the improvement of oneself as an individual."

Congratulations and all the best to this outstanding young woman in STEM!
